Personal Statement

I'm a 27 year old philosopher, passionate about usability and UX.

My UX know-how and opinions about good design are both firmly grounded in a holistic approach provided by analytic philosophy and cognitive science, as well as my individual never-ending education in interactive design.

I have a variety of job experience, but most recently I've been working to improve the IT service infrastructure for Kaunas University of Technology. As a Product Owner I have oversaw the development of a unique large scale multi-site content management system based on WordPress CMS.

I'm always up for a challenge to make the digital lives of my fellow humans even better.
