Description

Boomio is on a mission to make digital customer loyalty tools available to small and medium businesses.

Right now, such tools are only available to the enterprise segment, as developing them in-house costs thousands.

We have built an online platform and a mobile app that allows businesses to create and manage their own rewards & loyalty system.

For that we're looking for a React developer to further platform development.

We Expect You To

- Have at least 3 years of experience working with React Native.
- Be familiar with Object-oriented programming (OOP) principles.
- Be familiar with iOS and Android development.
- Having experience in native iOS and/or Android development and Node.js would be a plus.
- Be results and performance driven.
- Have no fear of failing.
- Be curious and creative.
